Publication Table

Caption: Table1, Year-wise Count of Animals Sent to Rehabilitation and ACC

This table presents the yearly distribution of animals sent to Animal Care Centers (ACC) and Rehabilitators by Urban Park Rangers from 2018 to 2021. The "Ranger Action" column categorizes the interventions, showing significant variations in the number of animals handled by each entity type over the years, reflecting changes in animal assistance trends.

To solve this question, I've taken the following steps as also explained in the code with comments:

1. After importing the data normalize and clean it like
 - a. Normalize values Animal Species column.
 - b. Extract Year Information after converting Initial Call Time to DateTime and sorting on datetime.
 - c. Check and drop null values
2. Filter the Ranger Action column for ACC and Rehabilitator
3. Group the filtered data by Ranger Action and Year and sum the No of Animals column
4. Pivot on Year from long to wide format
5. Write and format it on the excel file on a separate sheet using the helping method which I created.
6. Manually do some of the formatting to enhance readability and add pre-attentive attributes.

Animals Sent to Rehabilitation & ACC
	Counts By Year
Ranger Action	2018	2019	2020	2021
ACC	345	212	219	133
Rehabilitator	45	78	151	75

Note: The data reflects the number of animals needing rehabilitation or assistance based on the specific ranger action taken.

2. Caption: Table2, Year-wise Incidents by Animal Species

This table presents the number of incidents involving different animal species handled by Urban Park Rangers from 2018 to 2021. The "Animal Species" column categorizes the species into various groups such as Birds, Coyotes, Deer, Domestic Animals, Marine Mammals, and others. The counts reflect the number of animals involved in ranger interventions for each species group across the four years.

To solve this question, I've taken the following steps as also explained in the code with comments:

1. After importing the data normalize, clean, sort and transform it as explained under step 1 of Q1 caption.
2. Group the filtered data by Year and Species, and then counting the number of occurrences within each group
3. Pivot on Year from long to wide format
4. Write and format it on the excel file on a separate sheet using the helping method which I created.
5. Manually do some of the formatting to enhance readability and add pre-attentive attributes.

Year-Wise Incidents By Species
Animal Species	No of Animals by Year
	2018	2019	2020	2021
Birds	101	200	369	173
Coyotes	2	7	5	4
Deer	13	18	27	13
Domestic	24	48	54	35
Domestic Birds	4	17	12	23
Domestic Small Mammals-non RVS	3	3	0	4
Fish-numerous quantity, Terrestrial Reptile or Amphibian	1	1	3	2
Marine Mammals-seals only	3	5	13	1
Marine Mammals-whales, Dolphin	0	4	0	1
Marine Reptiles	0	2	1	1
Raptors	36	45	56	40
Rare, Endangered, Dangerous	0	0	1	0
Small Mammals-RVS	470	180	149	77
Small Mammals-non RVS	26	54	72	46
Terrestrial Reptile or Amphibian	13	44	48	36

Note: The table highlights trends in animal-related incidents, with notable fluctuations in certain species categories.

3. Table: Caption: Table3, Year-Wise Call Source Trends

This table highlights the sources of calls received by Urban Park Rangers from 2018 to 2021, categorized by "Call Source" such as Central, Employee, Public, and others. It provides insights into how different call sources contributed to reporting animal-related incidents over the years, with noticeable fluctuations in specific categories like Employee and Public calls.

To solve this question, I've taken the following steps as also explained in the code with comments:

1. After importing the data normalize, clean, sort and transform it as explained under step 1 of Q1 caption.
2. Group the filtered data by Year and Call Source, and then counting the number of occurrences within each group
3. Pivot on Year from long to wide format
4. Write and format it on the excel file on a separate sheet using the helping method which I created.
5. Manually do some of the formatting to enhance readability and add pre-attentive attributes.

Year-Wise Call Source Trends
Call Source	Counts By Year
	2018	2019	2020	2021
Central	116	125	163	134
Conservancies/"Friends of" Groups	258	60	55	29
Employee	180	213	281	147
Observed by Ranger	12	48	61	36
Other	35	33	29	8
Public	95	152	228	107

Note: There is a marked increase in call sources from "Public" and "Employee" in 2020. In contrast, calls from "Conservancies" steadily declined from 2018 to 2021.

Importable Table:

Following questions needs to be answered:

- 1) How has the number of animals sent to rehabilitators or animal care centers changed over time?
- 2) How has the type of animal been reported changed over time?
- 3) How has the source of information (call source) changed over time?

Based on the questions, we might need the following columns:

- a. We would need Date and Time Columns for Incident Report
 - a. Date and Time of initial call
 - b. Year column (For grouping by year, we will extract this from the Date)
- b. We would need data to track the species & count of animals being reported
 - a. Animal Class (If we are only interested in broader species like mammals)
 - b. Species Description (For more granular species data, to provide 2nd optional solution)
 - c. # of Animals (Count of Animals)
- c. We would need to identify where the animal was sent (ACC or Rehab)
 - a. Final Ranger Action (For finding out destination)
- d. We would need call sources to analyze the source of information
 - a. Call Source (For answering 3rd question)
 - b. Borough (For Granular Call Source Details, to provide 2nd optional solution)

Additional info that might be required if we are interested in more granular details. Below is the dataset:

Solution Overview

Question 1: Year Wise Incidents where Ranger Action is in Rehabilitator or ACC

In this solution, I filter the Ranger Action column for ACC and Rehabilitator. Then I grouped by on Ranger Action and Year columns and sum the No of Animals column to get to the yearly details of animals sent to ACC and Rehab.

Question 2 & 3:

In tackling Question 2 and Question 3, I provided two distinct solutions for each question to address different levels of detail and analysis. These extra solutions are part of output.xlsx excel file and code. For the Publication Table, I explained one of the solution for each only.

Question 2: Year-Wise Incidents by Species

For Question 2, I generated two variations of the analysis based on the classification of animal species:

- High-Level Species Grouping: In this solution, I grouped the animal species into broader categories, such as Birds, Coyotes, Deer, Domestic Animals, and Marine Mammals, providing a summary of incidents per year for each high-level category. This approach offers a more general overview of how different species groups have been involved in ranger interventions over time.
- Granular Species and Species Description Grouping: For a more detailed view, I provided a second solution where I used a more granular grouping of species, including Species Descriptions such as Domestic Birds and Small Mammals-non RVS. This breakdown allows for a more nuanced analysis of specific animal types and how their incident rates have fluctuated year over year.

Question 3: Year-Wise Call Source Trends

For Question 3, I also provided two solutions that differ in the level of detail regarding the source of the animal-related incidents:

- Call Source Only: In the first solution, I focused solely on the Call Source to analyze where the reports were originating from (e.g., Public, Employee, Observed by Ranger, etc.) across the years. This offers a clear view of how different call sources have contributed to the reporting of incidents.
- Call Source and Borough Grouping: In the second solution, I introduced an additional layer of analysis by grouping the data by both Call Source and Borough. This provides a deeper insight into how different geographic regions (boroughs) contributed to the call sources, offering a more localized understanding of the trends.

Automation with openpyxl Library

I used the openpyxl library to automate the process of generating and formatting the Excel file within the Python code. This allowed for efficient formatting of the output data into a structured and visually appealing Excel file named output.xlsx, which includes:

- Automatically formatted headers and titles
- Cell background color schemes for readability
- Merged cells for titles and headers to create a clean layout

Submission Details

I will submit the following files as part of this assessment:

1. Python Code File: The script containing the code used to solve the questions, including the pyexcel-based automation for formatting the Excel file.
2. Excel File (output.xlsx): The generated Excel file containing the solutions to both Question 2 and Question 3, with both levels of detail for each question.
3. PDF File: A PDF version of the final tables, including formatted results for all 3 solutions.

1.2 Step 2: Selecting Columns in this step we will select the columns which is required to answer our questions into the Output.xlsx file in a sheet name Importable Table.

1.2.1 Following questions needs to be answered:

- 1) How has the number of animals sent to rehabilitators or animal care centres changed over time?
- 2) How has the type of animal being reported changed over time?
- 3) How has the source of information (call source) changed over time?

Based on the questions, we might need the following columns:

- a. We would need Date and Time Columns for Incident Report
 - Date and Time of initial call
 - Year column (For grouping by year, we will extract this from the Date)
- b. We would need data to track the species & count of animals being reported
 - Animal Class (If we are only interested in broader species like mamals)
 - Species Description (For more granular species data)
 - # of Animals (Count of Animals)
- c. We would need to identify where the animal were sent (ACC or Rehab)
 - Final Ranger Action (For finding out destination)
- d. We would need call sources to analyze the source of information
 - Call Source (For answering 3rd question)
 - Borough (For Granular Call Source Details)

Additional info that might be required if we are interested in more granular details.

1.3 Step 3 : Import the data

Now we will read the data from the “Importable Table” sheet in the “output.csv” file

[574]: df = pd.read_excel(file_path, sheet_name='Importable Table')
df.info()

<class 'pandas.core.frame.DataFrame'>

memory usage: 142.8+ KB

1.4 Step 4 : Solving each question

Code for each question and then export each of the output into new sheets of the “output.csv”

We can see that all the columns are of type object and contains no null values. We can start by converting DateTime to DateTime type and inspecting what are the possible values in the column.

[575]: # Rename some of the columns for easier access df.rename(columns={
    'Date and Time of initial call' : 'Initial Call Time',
    'Animal Class' : 'Animal Species',
    '# of Animals' : "No. of Animals",
    'Final Ranger Action' : 'Ranger Action'
}, inplace=True)

Change Datatype of DateTime column from object to DateTime
df['Initial Call Time'] = pd.to_datetime(df['Initial Call Time'])

Drop null rows and Change Animals_Count colum from float to Int32
df.dropna(inplace=True)
df['No. of Animals'] = df['No. of Animals'].astype(dtype='int32')

df.info()

print(",", df.head())
